Former Avilla Town Court Judge William Davenport, 85, dies

AVILLA — William P. Davenport, 85, longtime Avilla Town Court judge and justice of the peace, died Tuesday, Oct. 22, 2002, at Provena Sacred Heart Home.

He moved to the community from Valparaiso in 1958.

Mr. Davenport worked at Armour Meat Packing for 45 years. He served as a justice of the peace and then town judge in Avilla for 20 years. He wrote one of the law chapters for the Judicial Court of Indiana. When he retired in 1986, misdemeanor cases were then referred to the Noble County courts.

Noble County Circuit Judge G. David Laur and Noble County Superior Court Judge Stephen Spindler each worked as prosecutors in Davenport's court. Each remembered Mr. Davenport as a judge who worked hard to be fair and who was a generous human being.

"For a non-lawyer judge, he could give a sterner lecture and ferret out the truth better than most judges I've ever met," Laur said.

"He wasn't afraid to throw the book at somebody," said William Drerup, Noble County's Democratic Party chairman, who added that Davenport was a nice guy.

"He did his very best to be fair to the people who came before him," Spindler said, adding that he worked to straighten out young people.

"He was also a master gardener," Laur said. He raised vegetables to give to the poor, Spindler recalled.

"He was a great storyteller," in part because of his varied background, Laur recalled. "He came from Missouri, and he started a lot of sentences, 'Back in Missouri, …' He was the best."

He was a former member of the McCray Memorial Hospital Building Board in Kendallville and Noble County Law Enforcement Association. He was also a member of the St. Vincent de Paul Society, a former Knight of Columbus, and founded and served as chief of the Bluntsville, Ind., Volunteer Fire Department.

He was born on Nov. 15, 1916, in Calhad, Mo., to William Earl and Laura (Peyton) Davenport.

He married Eileen "Mike" Ley on May 2, 1942, at St. Mary's Catholic Church in Avilla. She survives.

Also surviving are two sons and a daughter-in-law, William E. and Nancy Davenport and Francis E. Davenport, all of Fort Wayne; two daughters and sons-in-law, Romona and Don Cramsie of Fort Wayne and Pat and Garry Delagrange of Woodburn; eight grandchildren, William, Lindsay, Ryan and Danielle Davenport, Brett and Sean Cramsie and Kathy and Chris Delagrange; and two sisters, Fran Traznik of Port St. Lucie, Fla., and Mary Davenport of Wisconsin.

Services are Friday at 10:30 a.m. at St. Mary's Catholic Church in Avilla, with Father Daniel Durkin officiating. Burial will be in St. Mary's Catholic Cemetery.

Community mourns loss of inspiration

Jo David remembered for her courage, love

BY MATT GETTS

KENDALLVILLE — Her family and friends loved her.

Her son's college basketball teammates shaved their heads in her honor.

An entire community embraced her as an inspiration.

Today, everyone who knew her mourns the loss of Jo Ann David.

Mrs. David, 53, died at 12:46 a.m. Thursday after a 16-year battle with cancer.

Survivors include her husband, Jan, and three sons; Andrew and Nicholas of Waterloo, and Rocky of Kendallville. A full obituary appears on Page A8.

A 1967 graduate of Waterloo High School, Jo graduated from Indiana Central College, Indianapolis. Jo was as a guidance counselor for 31 years, most recently at Carroll Middle School. She worked at Carroll until 2 1/2 weeks ago.

Family friend Becky Schmidt said even amidst the worst of the chemotherapy treatments, Jo never missed much work. There were times Jo would return to school the day of her treatments. She never gave up and she faced each challenge with an attitude people who knew her will take with them for a long time.

"She was everything I wish I could be," said Marty Johnson, who got to know the family well when son Nick was on Johnson's basketball team at East Noble High School. "I feel sorry for people who didn't have a chance to know her."

Schmidt, who lives in Auburn, met the David family when Jan David was coaching the boys basketball team at DeKalb High School. The Schmidt children became friends with the David children. Becky became close to Jo.

"We have been friends for 20-some years," Schmidt said. "We spent a lot of time on the bleachers (at ball games) together."

The Rev. Dr. Dan Barker, who was associate pastor at Trinity Church United Methodist when the Davids moved to Kendallville, said one of the strongest memories in his mind was of Jo sitting on the hard bleachers at one of Nick's game at East Noble. Through all her pain and discomfort, Barker said, her devotion to her family never changed.

"She was there for all of her family," he said. "Jo had a beautiful spirit. She was a very courageous person."

Schmidt, who is a nurse, was there for Jo David when she was diagnosed with breast cancer 16 years ago.

"It was a walk we had together," Schmidt said. "She's battled this for a long time."

The cancer would go into remission, then it would return. It was a pattern that Jo met head-on. According to Johnson, she always wanted to go ahead with treatments, not taking time to even rest up.

The cancer proved relentless. But then again, so was the positive attitude and determination Jo took with her into each day's fight with the disease.

"She never accepted she wasn't going to make it," Schmidt said. "She did it for her family. She was willing to do whatever it took to battle this thing … always with a smile, always with a positive attitude."

Johnson also pointed to David's amazing attitude. He said there were several times that he would go to visit, intending to cheer the woman up, only to find himself feeling better when he left.

"There are many people who will live longer than she has," Johnson said, "but I haven't met anybody who lived more."

Jo's relentless fight with cancer so inspired her son Nick's basketball team at Taylor that the entire squad shaved their heads as a sign of solidarity.

"That shows you the respect people had for her," Johnson said. "You didn't have to be around her long to be caught up in her attitude.

"(She was) a battler, she had great courage. People talk about her passion for her family, her sense of humor."

Now people will have to find someone else to make them laugh. But they still will have a source of inspiration.

"She truly was the most amazing person," Schmidt said. "She touched all of us. She fought and she fought. She inspired everyone."
